PT Embee Plumbon Tekstil (Indonesia) has gained corporate membership of the International Textile Manufacturers Federation (ITMF). Since it started its operations in 1999 in Indonesia, the firm has evolved into one of the world's leading spinning companies.

Embee pursues a customer-focused approach by continuously upgrading its technology, producing in a skilful manner, and conducting comprehensive training programmes. This approach allows setting the highest standards in product and process development.

"The ITMF is very fortunate to welcome such a renowned spinning company as a new corporate member. Companies like Embee demonstrate how important it is to offer quality products that the markets demand at a competitive price. ITMF offers Embee an environment that can be seen as a sounding board. This helps Embee to better understand the company's position in the global competition, learn about the prevailing trends in the global industry, and identify suitable suppliers and customers," Christian Schindler, director general of ITMF, said in a press release.

"By joining ITMF, we become a part of a unique universe of the global textile supply chain. It is important for Embee to look beyond the daily business and develop a feeling for the evolution of the industry. A forum like ITMF offers just that. To have access to ITMF's data, survey, webinars, and its international network across the entire textile value chain provide intangible value for us. Engaging with colleagues from around the world in an atmosphere of trust is very valuable," commented Vijay Agarwal, president director of PT Embee Plumbon Tekstil.
